HOW THEY HAZE AT ANNAPOLIS.

Says Made to Drink Liquor and Chew Tobacco—Rolled in Barrels.

"Hazing at Annapolis is due to gross negligence on the part of the academy officers, and nothing can excuse its continuance," said P. H. Moeller. He spoke in reference to the case of Cadet Strang, of Oregon, whose death is suspected to have been due to injuries received at the hands of a hazing party. "I went through the academy on a visit," continued Mr. Moeller, "and was told by my son and other cadets of the things that went on there. The dangerous part played on the cadets are not the worst abuses by any means. The year my son was there, a gang of rough cadets got hold of a fourteen-year-old cadet and forced him to drink whiskey and other intoxicating drinks night after night."

"They also compelled him to chew tobacco, although it made him sick. Cadets who saw the barbarity told me it was useless for them to try and protect him because his torturers were great big fellows and they were afraid of them. The cadets got liquor and champagne and cigars by the basketful from Baltimore and Washington without any hindrance from the academy authorities. I found whiskey flasks stowed in wardrobe drawers and on top of closets in the cadet rooms."

"The hazing is often done on the academy campus. Cadets are rolled in barrels along the ground. In the sleeping rooms hazing takes the form of making cadets stand on their heads, go through drill in their night shirts, and submit to being made sandwiches of. This consists of putting a cadet between two mattresses and keeping him there fast while a lot of other cadets sit on him. My son had his ankle sprained and was lame for two weeks after he had been made a sandwich of."

"It is perfectly ridiculous to say that this sort of folly cannot be stopped. There are only 200 cadets in the academy and seventy-nine officers, professors and teachers to look after them—seventy-nine grown men against 200 boys. Able seamen can be called in at any time to add to the number. All that is necessary to crush the evil out is to establish a patrol on the campus to break up the barrel-rolling form of hazing and the other varieties can be stopped at once by putting night guards in the dormitory halls to prevent cadets from going to the rooms of other cadets. It is apparent to any one that cadets can't haze when they can't reach the room of the cadet they propose to haze. The evil will continue to be weekly visited until the newspapers take hold of it and stir the authorities up."—N. Y. Sun.

Alaska Salmon.

The Alaska salmon weighs on an average from eight to ten pounds, and has a flesh varying between light yellow and a brilliant red. The fish are rapid breeders and exist in great abundance. The catching season begins in May and lasts until September, by which time the spawn has been laid and the fish begin to grow lean and sickly. Salted salmon are selected for their weight and size and are packed in barrels, each containing some thirty fish. The salmon is cut open by running a knife from the tail to the head through the stomach, and then the backbone, tail and head are removed. Flattened out, the fish are now packed in large bins, the flesh side being up, and a quantity of coarse salt is placed between each layer. There they remain from five to six days, or until the flesh is entirely hardened, when they are packed in brine in barrels and half-barrels. The Chinese can- nery shipped 532 barrels and eight kits last year; the Boca de Quadra will ship 300 barrels this season; Kasaan shipped 338 barrels last year; Kasaan 500 barrels, and Kilisnoo 105. The other canneries scattered about the bays of the territory are also shipping considerable quantities. Kilisnoo is the name of a station at which there is the largest herring-oil factory in Alaska. It lies southeast from Sitka and is the most unsavory smelling place imaginable, for combined with the oil factory there is a guano establishment which emits an odor perceptible for miles around. If they desired, the Kilisnoo people could ship unlimited quantities of cod. The water is filled with choice varieties, averaging twenty-seven pounds each, and they are easily caught and cheaply, too, by the natives, who are well acquainted with the cod grounds. But little attention, however, is given this fish, and Kilisnoo, I believe, is the only place from which the cod is shipped.—Corr. Chronicle.

Age Cannot With.

Lord Lindsay states that in the course of his wanderings amid the pyramids of Egypt he stumbled on a mummy which proved by its hieroglyphics to be at least 2,000 years old. In examining it after it was unwrapped, he found in one of its closed hands a tuberous or bulbous root. He was interested in the question of how long vegetable life could last, and took the root from the mummy's hand and planted it in a sunny soil, allowing the rains and dews of heaven to descend upon it, and in the course of a few weeks the root burst forth and bloomed into a most beautiful dahlia. The story is said to be well verified.

Fountain of Youth.

Every year a great army of invalids visit Florida in search of health. Ponce de Leon, the famous old Spanish explorer, searched there for the supposed Fountain of Youth, which he thought would keep everybody youthful. Better stay at home and take Brown's Iron Bitters. This helps out the debilitated, the languid and the consumptive. Mr. P. Bonknight, of Micanopy, Florida, says, "every thing failed to cure my dyspepsia. At last I tried Brown's Iron Bitters with complete success."

It is the opinion of an English surgeon of note that men who have the oftenest shorten their lives by several years. The Arabs also have a belief that those who wash their faces are marked for an early tomb. The slouch has much to encourage him.

A Demand For a Fair Count.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The following address has just been issued:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COM.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.

The Republican national committee rejoices that returns now received warrant it in announcing the triumphant election of Blaine and Logan. The Republicans have carried every northern state except New Jersey and Connecticut. Virginia seems also to have given a majority for the Republican cause and ticket, and there is a strong probability that West Virginia has also, while other southern states are still in doubt.

The northern states alone, however, give Blaine and Logan 225 electoral votes, and insure their election. In New York attempts to tamper with returns have already been detected. The actual vote cast in New York city, Kings county and 1852 other election precincts give, at the utmost, only 148 plurality to Grover Cleveland, while 163 precincts not yet heard from gave 2171 plurality to Garfield. There is, therefore, no ground for doubt that the honest vote of the state has been given to the Republican candidates, and though the defeated candidate for the presidency is at the head of the election machinery in this state, the Democratic party, which has notoriously been the party of fraud in elections for years, will not be permitted to thwart the will of the people. The national Republican committee calls on the chairmen and individual members of all county committees to take the promptest and most stringent means to protect the sanctity of the ballot. The Republican candidates have been honestly elected, beyond question, and any attempt to cheat the people and to defeat their will thus expressed at the polls must be sternly exposed and resisted by every law-respecting citizen.

B. F. JONES, Chairman.

SAMUEL FESSENDEN, Secretary.

PROCLAMATION BY A PROHIBITIONIST.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The following has been issued: The total Prohibition vote will aggregate 200,000. Four years ago it was less than 11,000, and it has decided the presidential contest in New York. Cleveland's majority is about 2,000. Official returns will not materially change the figures. The Prohibition vote in New York is fully 25,000. The Prohibition vote in Allegheny, Monroe and Orleans counties alone would have carried the state for Blaine, if cast for him. The Prohibitionists have stood up to be counted, and have rebuked the insult offered temperance men at the Chicago convention; and this vote has made prohibition a national issue, which will not go out of national politics till beershops and drinking have gone from America. The Republican party having been removed from power to the graveyard, prohibition will at once organize to bury whiskey Democrats four years ahead. I am fully satisfied we have no choice between the candidates of the old parties, but were fighting to elect an issue, and we have won. The work to make the issue win in 1888 has already begun. JOHN B. FRISCH, Chairman National Prohibition Com.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM THE STATE.

ALBANY, Nov. 6.—Daniel Manning, chairman of the Democratic state committee, has sent the following to the New York Post: By official returns reported from every county, Cleveland and Hendricks have carried New York state by a safe and sure majority. No machinations or false claims, or pretended doubts of Blaine's managers, can change this result. The friends of honest government and honest elections can be everywhere assured that the Democratic state board of canvassers will see that the true vote is correctly declared. DANIEL MANNING.
